The Board of Education

Advisors to the Administrators

"EVERYTHING POINTS to the fact that you have a very good school," reports Mr. Donald Johnson to Mr. Graves as they check the Bucklin R-II School records.

The job of each of the school board members in a local district is comparable to that of a Supreme Court Judge on a federal basis. The board member is called upon to make decisions on many important subjects which are necessary to the proper operation of the school. It is the job of the board administrators to pass judgment on varied matters, from the very large ones to the ones that are very minute in importance.

The Board of Education strives to always improve the school and its influences in the community. The board, assisted by the Superintendent of Schools, must hire all teachers, other school personnel, pay all bills, decide on expenditures, and plan for improvements in the curriculum and in the surroundings for the students. They must help the students to realize and achieve the ambitions set before them by the administrators in building for their future lives as well-educated individuals.

We Accomplished More in '64

SERGEANT FRIDAY, Karen Morris, had some extremely tough characters to deal with in the home economics style show.

SENIOR RECO STAFF MEMBERS have expressions of joy and gladness written on their faces as Mrs. Kelso, advisor, informs them of their First Class Honor Rating accomplishments.

Memories are made of everything---- and at Bucklin High School things were happening at all times. These experiences stored away good thoughts in the students' minds. There were activities at all times ----something to do every minute.

As time moved on, highlights happened, and satisfaction was achieved. Several honors were bestowed on B. H. S. students this year. The freshman class boasted of their first place award in Planned Progress, the '63 Reco, on which much effort was put forth, won a First Class Honor Rating, the girls' basketball team won fourth place in the Ethel tournament, the junior high girls won second place and the junior high boys won fourth place in the home tournament.

"Yes, '64 was a good year," we'll think ten years from now, as we recall our friends, our classmates, and the wonderful experiences which were all a big part of our memorable school life.

AS the HIGH WINDS rapidly fanned the flames from a trash fire, every available method of fighting fire was utilized by the willing students in spite of the dense smoke. Additional complications developed as the fire truck became stuck in the field.

FILLED with the CHRISTMAS SPIRIT, Student Council members decorate the entrance hall tree with tinsel and glittering lights.

MISSOURI POWER and LIGHT dignitaries presented a check and a framed award to Pamella Husted and Miss Cannon, who represented the civics class.

AS a SELECTED FEW fill the broad jump pit with sawdust and prepare the grounds for track, other students anxiously await the spring track season.

INITIATION DAY found George Hanson on his knees providing choice candies and gums and begging for leniency from Nancy Lambert.

LOCAL P.E.O. MEMBERS sponsor an annual spring tea for the junior and senior girls. A program is given and refreshments are enjoyed at this time.

Custodian and Bus Drivers

Those Willing to Accept Responsibility

There are times, when thinking about a school system, that a person considers only the work performed by the administration, the teachers, and the students. Other personnel, such as the custodian, the cooks, and the bus drivers, also perform duties which are vital to the operation of the school.

Our custodian, Mr. Dowell, is always ready to help faculty members or students. His work includes such things as replacing light bulbs, burning trash, raising the flag, sweeping floors, repairing furnishings, mowing the lawn, and keeping the furnace operating mechanically.

Our dieticians, Mrs. Marcusson, Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. Johnson, have the tasks of purchasing food supplies, preparing them, serving them, and cleaning the kitchen after many meals have been served each noon hour. Though properly balancing the cafeteria budget is quite an undertaking, Mrs. Marcusson accomplishes this in an efficient manner.

Bus drivers have the all-important duty of transporting students to and from school. Discipline must be maintained, schedules must be met, and buses must be kept in good repair. Many times the bus drivers have additional driving to do at night. They must transport students to ball games, class parties, and educational trips.

RULES of SAFETY must be observed at all times. Efficient bus drivers for the 1963-64 school term were: Cy Carter, Russell Liebhart, Albert Molloy, Bob King, Leroy Hanson, and Ralph Burris.

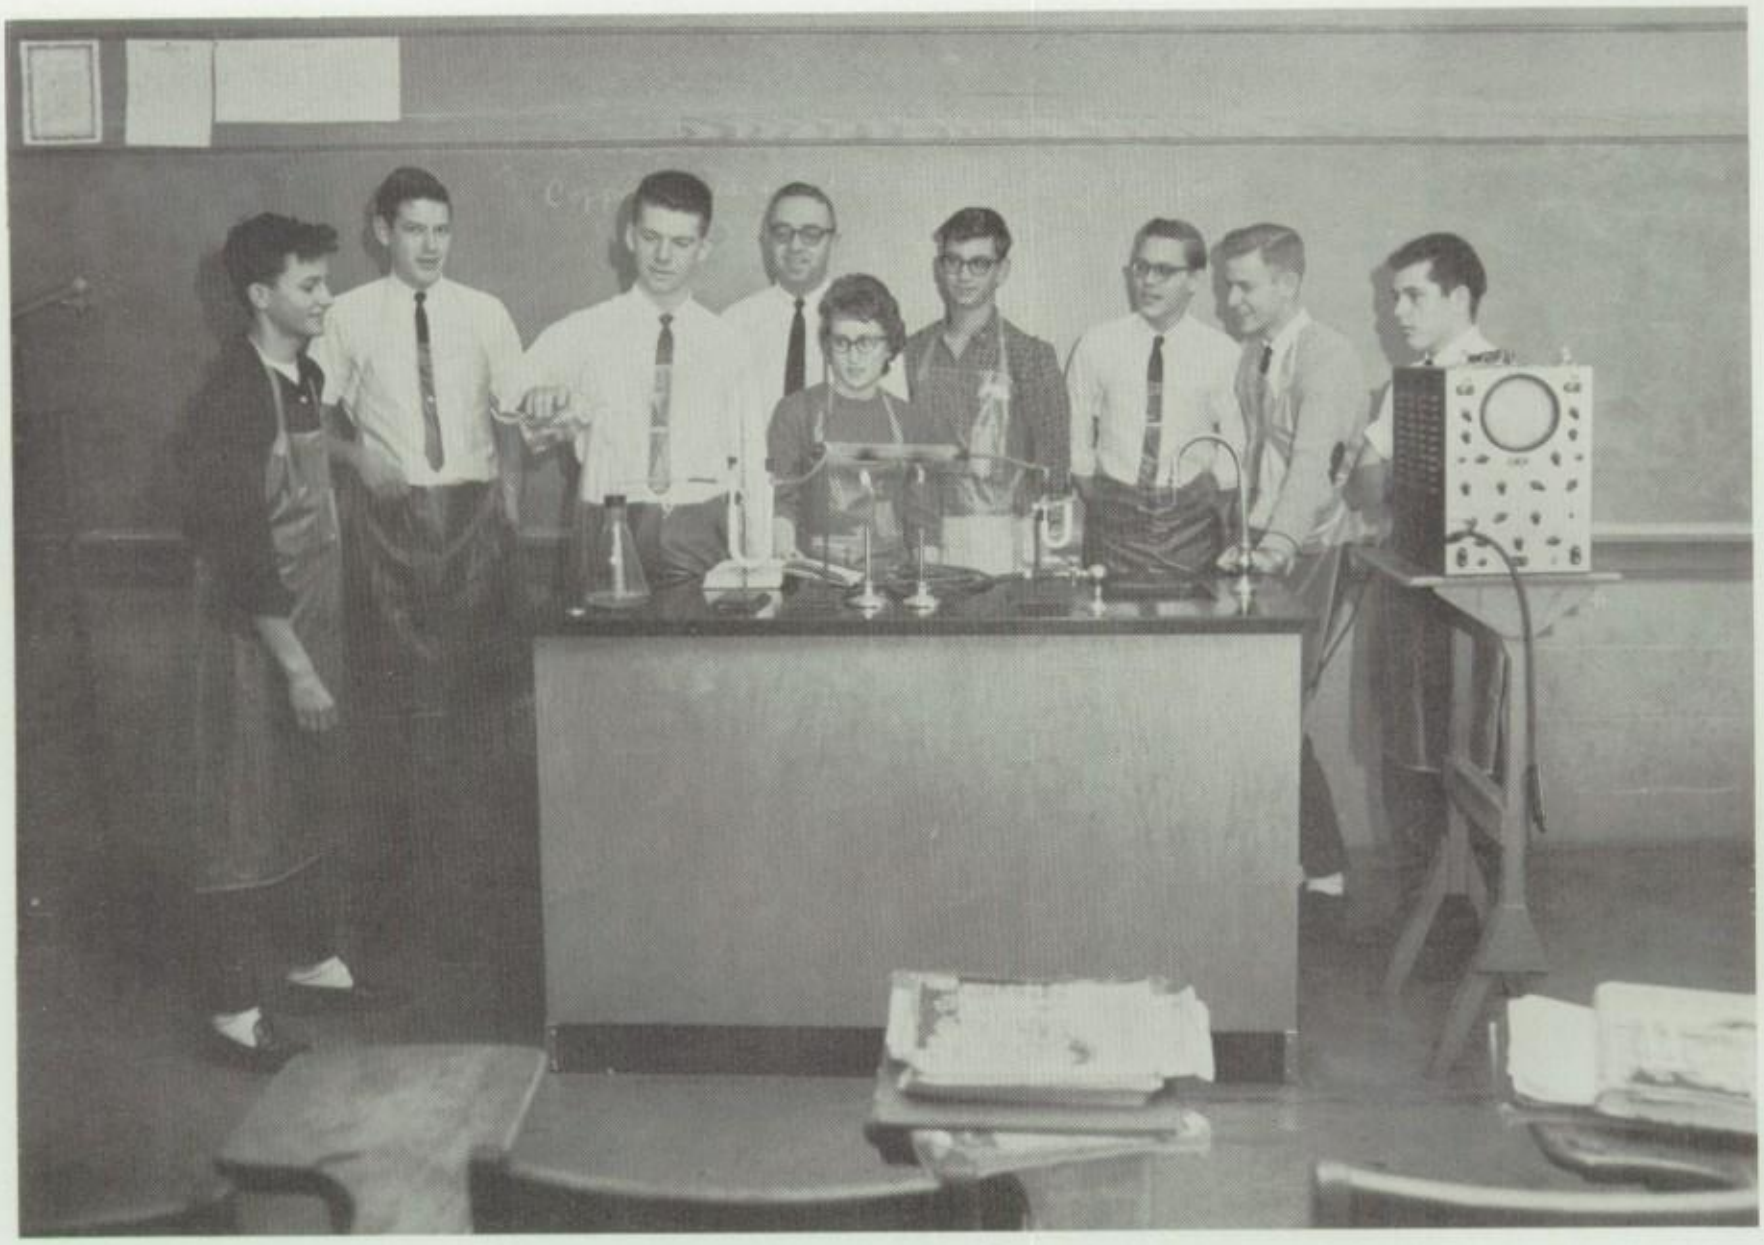
LEARNING



"CURIOSITY KILLED the CAT" but in this instance the curious minds of the chemistry students enable them to learn valuable science information. Ted Holmlund shows the class how much acid to pour in.

Experiments Are Challenging and Educational

"WILL IT BLOW UP OR NOT?" is the foremost thought in the minds of each of these biology students. Experiments are a vital part of the learning process of each student in the science department.

Sciences

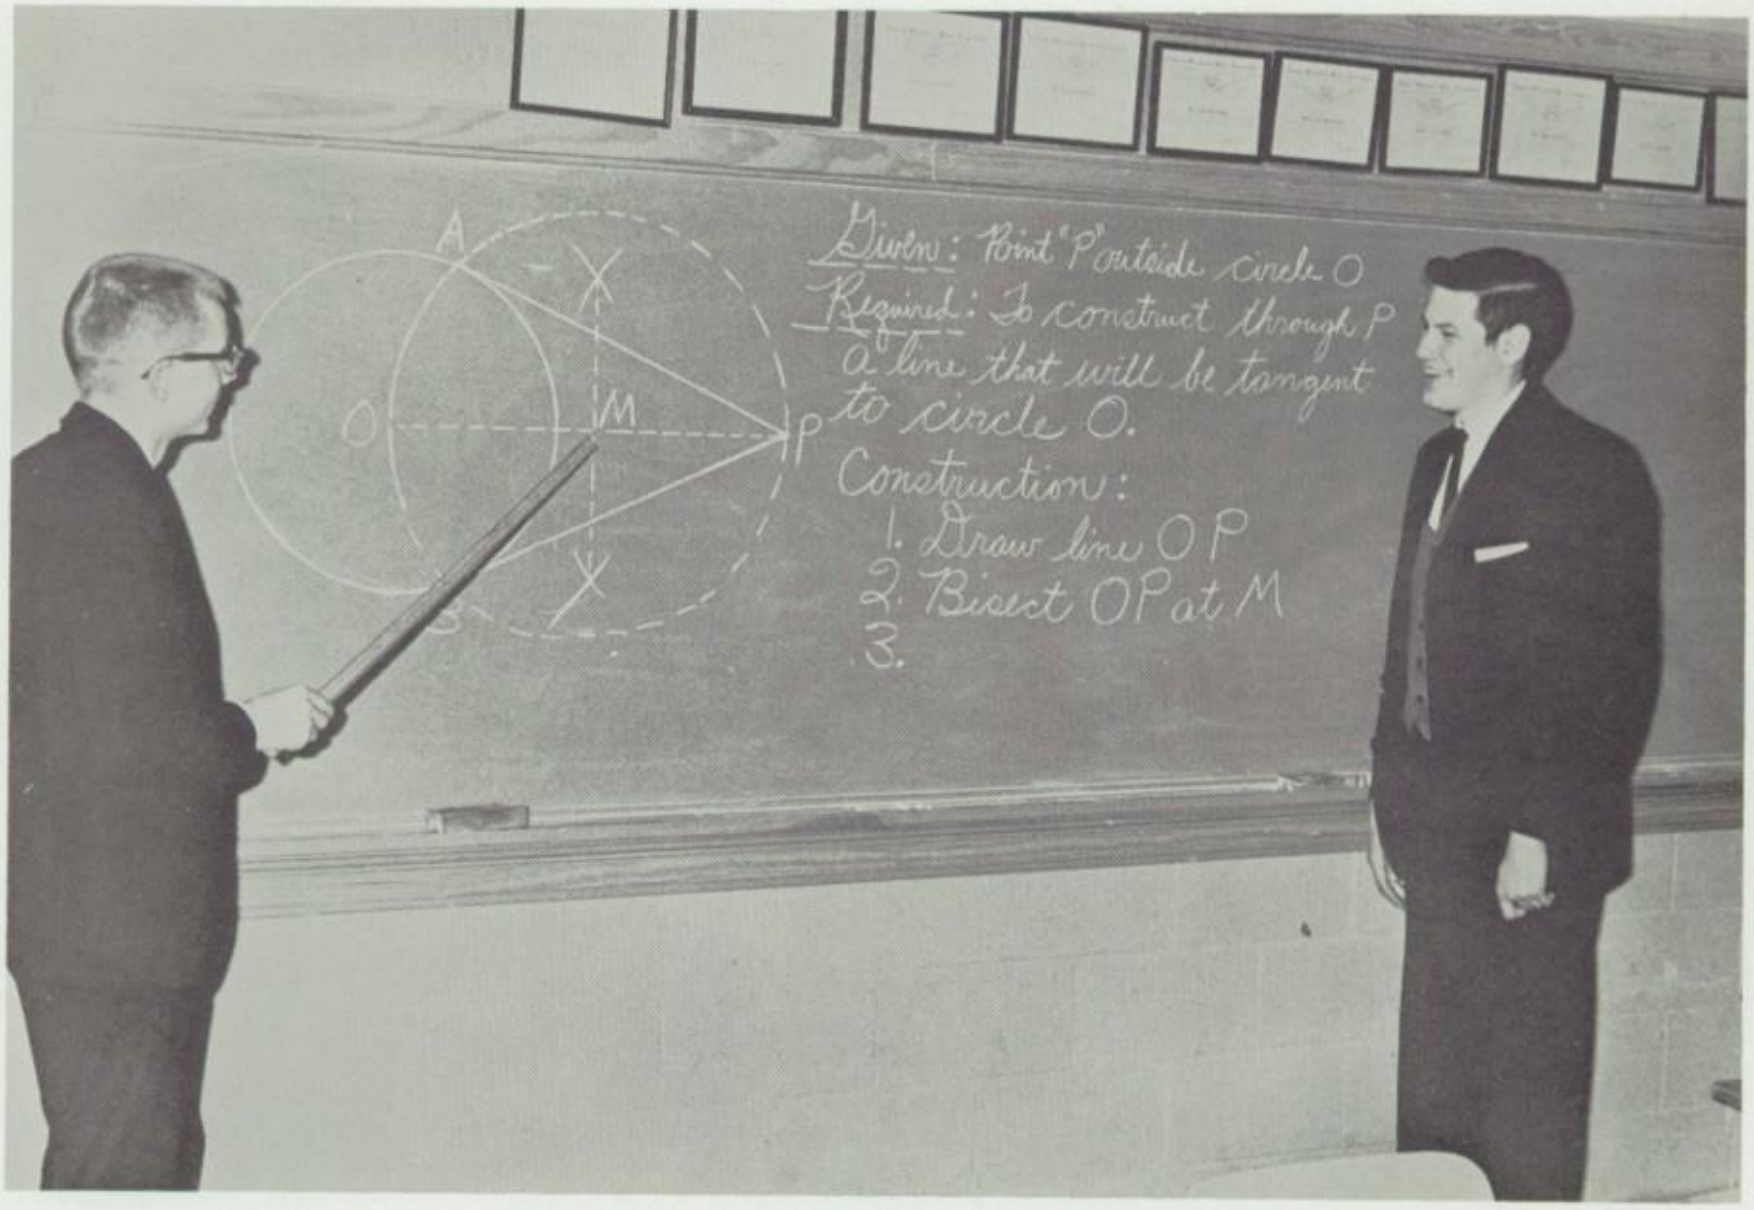
Science is very important to everyone; it has made life easier and more pleasant. It is the way to look into every daily activity in order to improve the way we live.

The growth of civilization depends on progress and change brought about by scientific discoveries and their uses.

Science has revolutionized our country with many communication devices and discoveries.

The students of Bucklin High are offered many courses in the science field, such as chemistry, science, biology, and health.

High school science courses help students learn how the scientific methods work, how our industrial society uses science, and it provides the students with a chance to be creative and to apply their knowledge to fields that interest them.



CONSTRUCTIONS and GEOMETRY go hand in hand. Billy Holmes and James Curry seem to find this problem very amusing. The class found the study of circles to be one of their favorite chapters.

Basic Fundamentals Are Important

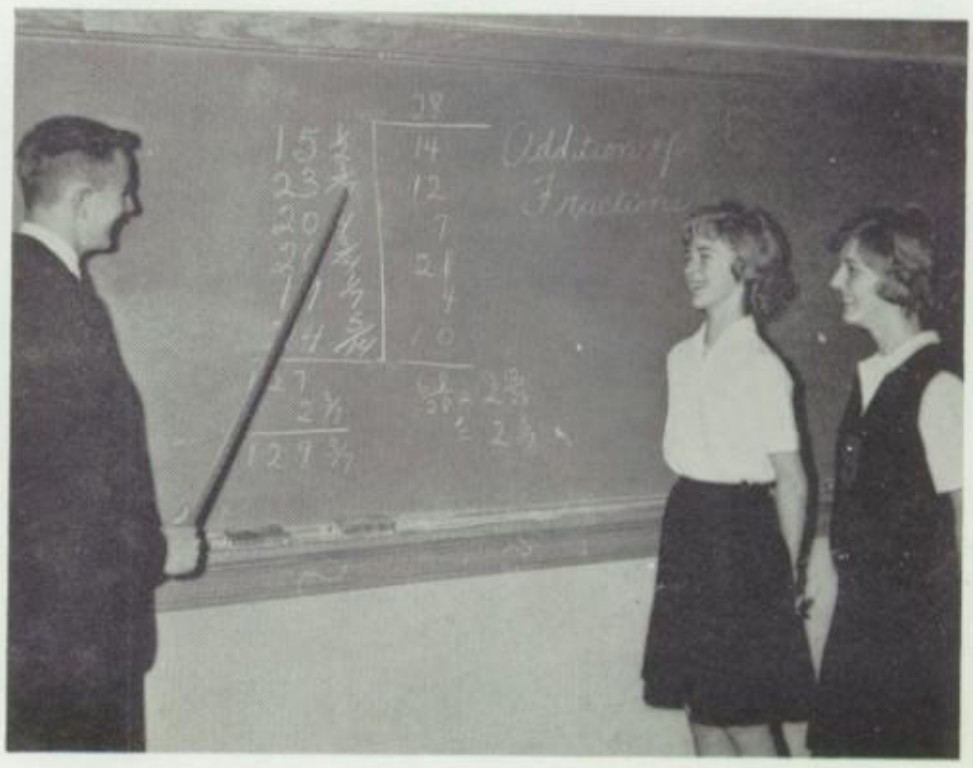
Mathematics

Mathematics offers many career opportunities. It is one of the most useful and fascinating divisions of human knowledge obtainable. It helps us in many important areas of study, and gives us the power of knowledge to solve many puzzling problems.

In our school system one year of math is required; others are offered as electives. Math is a study of the fundamentals; while Algebra I and II, and plane geometry are offered for those who want additional training in the mathematical field.

Every person uses some type of mathematical knowledge every day. This is a field that everyone must study, regardless of interests and future careers.

"FIND a COMMON DENOMINATOR, add the fractions and whole numbers, and then reduce to lowest terms," explains Herman Almond, as he shows Diana Burnett and Judy Sevier the solution to the problem.



"THAT DOLL looks exactly like Eppie did on her wedding day," seems to be Betty Twitchel's and Joan Liebhart's thoughts as they admire the project made by the sophomores after the study of Silas Marner in literature.

"ALL THIS RESEARCH is sure a lot of work for just a term paper," thinks Nylene Stone, as she busily types her outline. The writing of a term paper, was the main project of the junior English class.

English

Students Attain a Literary and Grammatical Background

"EVERY CITIZEN'S RESPONSIBILITY is to uphold the Constitution and the United States in general," declares Karen Hill as she speaks in the oratorical contest. Karen, winner of the contest, spoke very earnestly in her statements concerning Americanism.

English is a big field. Students gain knowledge that helps them to better understand the thoughts and actions of men of the past and future. English is presented to students of Bucklin High in four different courses: English I, II, III, and IV. This four-year study reveals the value of communication with other human beings. Regardless of the career or occupation a student might choose, efficient English is a necessary background.

A new project this year stressing good citizenship was an oratorical contest held in the local school system. The theme of the contest was "Americanism vs. Communism." It aroused much interest and is a promising project for the future.

"WE GOT A FIRST," is the reason for these happy faces of Troy Cooper, Diana Burnett, Pamella Husted, Pat Carter, and Karen Jackson, the 1964 Planned Progress panel. Their project was a Sewage Disposal Unit, and by achieving near-perfect in their surveys and investigations of facts and figures, they were victorious in winning a cash prize.

Historical Knowledge Is a Necessity

"CONGRATULATIONS," Mr. Gilbert Standley says, as he presents Dennis Burnett an award given by the American Legion Post. Dennis was Bucklin's representative in the oratorical contest.

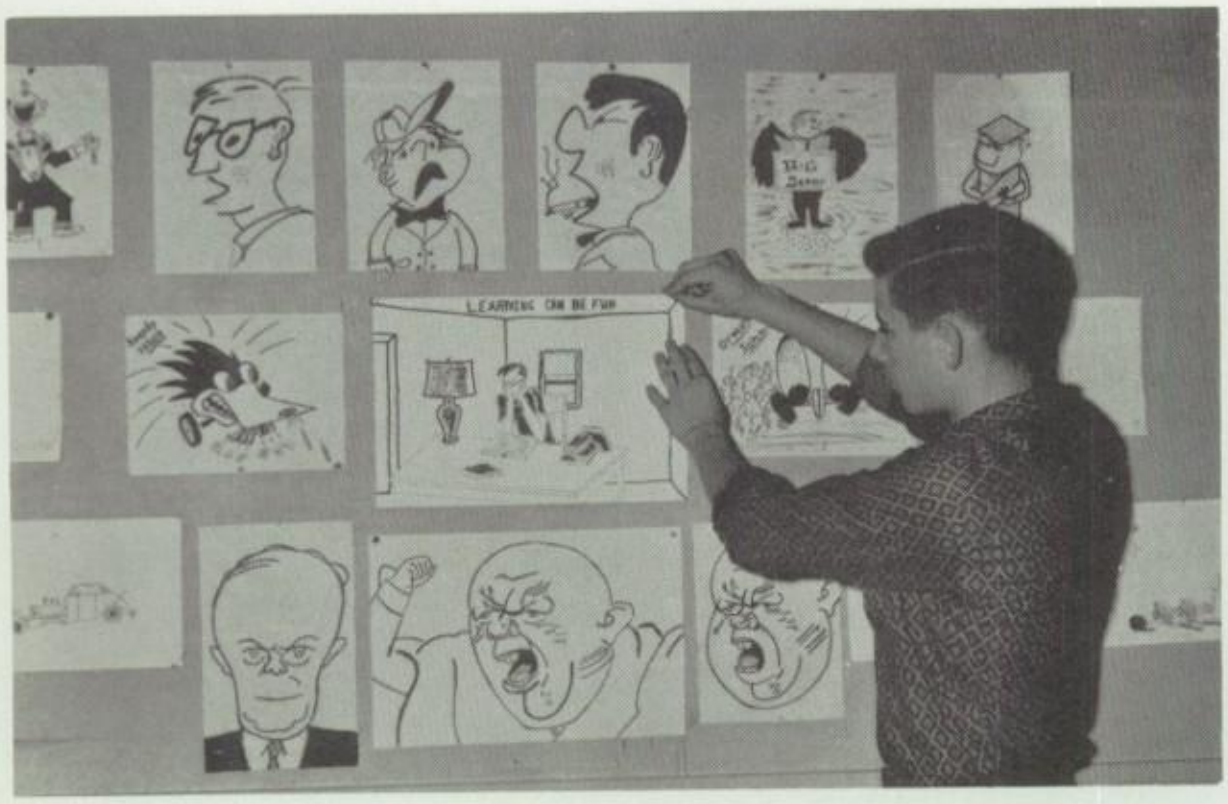
Citizenship helps us to better understand our world of today. It is a study of our home, community, state, country, and world. Because of the need of bringing knowledge of former days up to date, Planned Progress projects are accomplished each year. This year the panel won First Place Honors, which entitled them to enter the district contest and $150 to be used to improve the school.

History is also a very important study for the youth of today. World history is a study of life in the old world, and American history is the study of the development of our country.

Two new phases in the educational system which Bucklin tackled this year were American problems and the American Legion oratorical contest. These are concerned with modern-day happenings around the world.

Art

Creativeness in Action



"I THINK this is the best illustration of the type of work we've been doing, so it should be the center of interest," decides Jimmy Molloy as he adorns the bulletin board.

"Creativeness is the key to beautiful things," is the basis of the art courses offered. Miss Cannon is the outstanding developer of this creativeness, as she understands and analizes the rather vague ideas of the students, and helps to enlighten these ideas until they are practicable for use.

After the beginning of a project, as it develops into something attractive and artistic, the student finds his creation to be a real work of art. This is due to the fact that with faith in yourself, and the willingness to work, success is inevitable.

"DO YOU THINK this is really the best we can do?" seems to be the question confronting Nancy Heaton and Judy Davolt. Their artistic abilities are obvious in these recent productions.

AS the FINISHING TOUCHES add to the effect of the painting Susan Lacer has done, she decides it really shows the effect of accomplishment and skill.

Training for Home Living

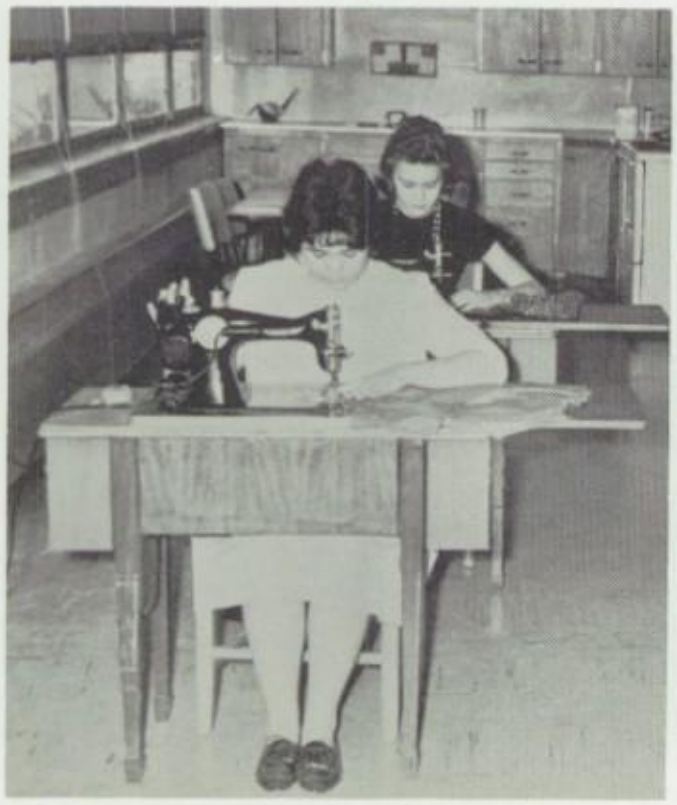
Home Economics and Family Living

"THESE GUNS simply don't belong in this wallpaper pattern," remarks Mrs. Van Dyke as she points out the good and bad of the design to her third year home economics class. They absorbed almost every word, as they learned the finer points of interest.

To become an efficient homemaker is the future ambition of thousands of girls, and the ones at Bucklin are no different from the others.

Home economics is the beginning point of training toward the realization of this ambition. First year home ec'ers study the fundamentals of cooking, sewing, and homemaking. Second year students study in more detail the construction of clothing, and the proper planning of meals and their nutritional values and requirements. In third year home economics, alteration of patterns, interior designing, and planning of more complex meals are among the detailed snatches of knowledge needed to "keep house" the modern way.

BEING CAREFUL to do a good job on the first garment in home economics class, Donna Thompson and Joan Liebhart seem very intent on their work.



SAYING GRACE is a very important part of good etiquette in every meal whether it is formal or informal, and this is one of the many important details learned by the students in the family living class.

"3-2-1-TYPE," and away they go on a timed writing. The goal of this class is to gain speed, decrease errors, improve form and technique.

Commerce is a field which increases in popularity every year, because of its practicality in modern living.

The commercial courses offered this year are: general business, a study of fundamental business of all types; bookkeeping, a more advanced study of keeping accurate records and books; shorthand, which helps you take dictation more quickly and efficiently; typing, which is necessary in any office or business job available; and secretarial practice, which is a "must" for every future secretary.

Through the study of these various phases of business, a wide scope is offered for the future housewife, the secretary, or the highest business executive.

Training in Business Procedures

Courses in the Commercial Field

"THE GOSSIP in our paper is really good this time," remarks the Tel-it-al Staff members as they proofread the paper before distribution to all subscribers, who receive a paper every two weeks.

COMPARING ANSWERS from machine calculations and mental calculations, Roger Head and Donnie Head find the correct totals as they fill out their bookkeeping work sheets.

Industrial arts is one of the most enjoyable and essential branches of education available for boys. In the classes offered, it is possible for the boys to construct beautiful and useful pieces of furniture, and other practical articles for the home and workshop.

Courses offered in industrial arts are: woodworking, general shop, and drafting. A thorough study of these courses prepares a young man for almost any sort of handy-man job.

Drivers' training is a valuable course that is offered and every teen-ager should study it if at all possible. It helps to prepare him for the life ahead as an alert and careful driver. It is a study of the various parts of the automobile, and offers instructions in careful and correct driving habits.

"WE'RE READY for a RIDE, and away we go," is the daily attitude of the driver training students as their instructor and they enjoy the new drivers' education car.

Students Develop Practical Skills

Driver Training and Industrial Arts

THE FINISHING TOUCHES are really the most important in woodworking, so the finishing is done carefully by Ben Twitchel, Bill Cash, and Howard Cash.

"THE GRAIN in that wood isn't uniform in pattern," remarks Carter Sappington to Jimmy Molloy and Carl Jackson. Careful planning and work is needed to obtain an excellent finish on any wood project.

Physical Education and 9-Point Health Program

Achieving Physical Fitness

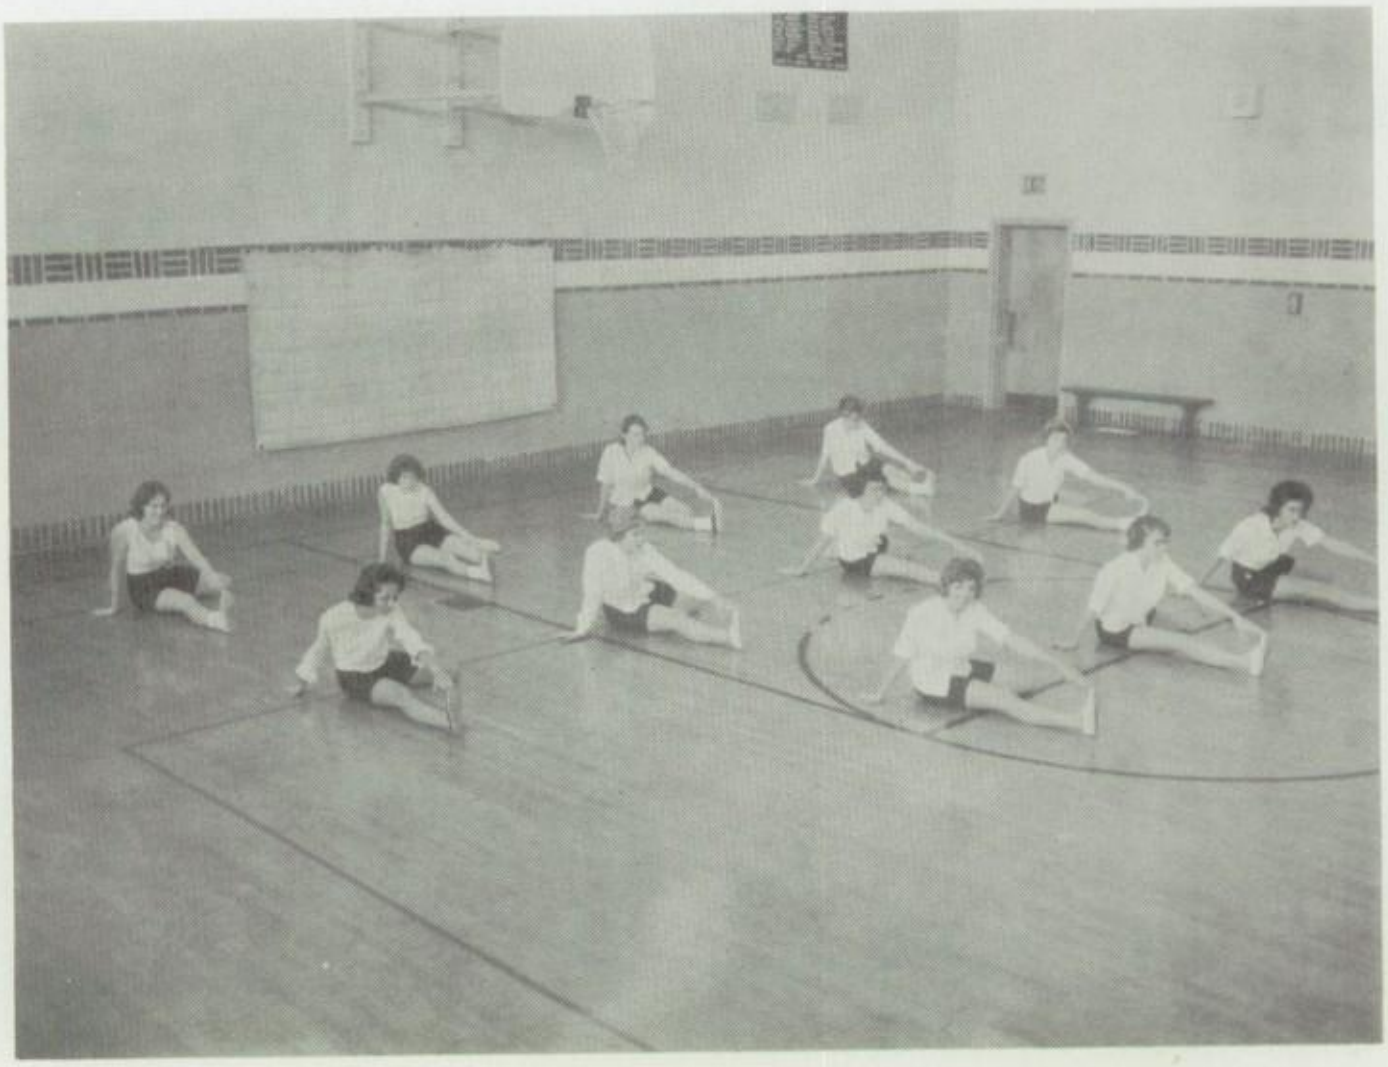
DOING EXERCISES in P.E. isn't the most enjoyable thing in the world, but these boys realize that exercise is the key to manly muscles.

Physical Fitness was stressed by our former President, and we continue to emphasize much exercise and physical dexterity in order to be in perfect condition.

In addition to the regular exercises of playing volleyball, dodge ball, baseball, softball , and basketball, calisthenics are practiced to develop muscles and coordination.

As an added attraction to regular physical education classes, an intramural basketball tournament is held each spring. This helps stress friendly competition among classes in the local school system.

"UP, 1; BACK, 2; stretch, up; back, 4;" seems to be the main plan of this exercise, as the girls practice daily strenuous exercises.



"OPEN WIDE," says Dr. Bunton to Donna Whisenand as he checks her teeth and the teeth of all grade school students.

"GEE, I'M GLAD you're no taller," muses Mrs. English, as she measures and weighs each grade school pupil for the growth-progress charts.

To coordinate with the physical exercises for improvement of good health, the Nine-Point Health System is used to promote perfect health.

Nine doctors from Kirksville visit our school to inspect ears, eyes, nose, throat, heart, height, weight, teeth, and the condition of the skin. If there are defects in any of these areas of the body, a notice is sent home to the parents, informing them of the defects.

All students who are free from any bad reports receive a pin as a reward for this perfect health record.

Healthy students are a great asset to the school system and to the community.

"MY, YOU ARE a pretty little girl," says one of the doctors as he checks the condition of Eva Hill's mouth to help carry out the Nine-Point Health Project.

CLINIC DOCTORS examine the students' ears to determine if there are any auditory problems.

SPORTS

"MARK YOUR STEP so you won't scratch," is the advice Peggy Aderton has received from her coach. A foul at the take-off line will disqualify a good jump. Peggy gets the okay from the judge.

A Favorite Spring Sport

TRI-COUNTY'S BASKETBALL throw all-time distance record was broken as Leora Davis threw the ball 81 feet, 6 1/4 inches.

Girls' Track

Track furnishes many thrills and moments of anxiety for the Bucklin girls' track team. Every event must be properly trained for in order for the girls to give their best performance. Whether the event is an individual effort such as throwing the shot, basketball, or baseball, or whether it is a team effort such as a relay race, each member must be in top physical shape to win.

Track is a healthful sport and participation in it helps strengthen the body. The girls seem to enjoy track and it develops a strong desire among the team members to win each event.

INTO the SAWDUST pit sails Sandra Burris as she competes for broad jump honors. Sandra was a spirited track performer for Bucklin.

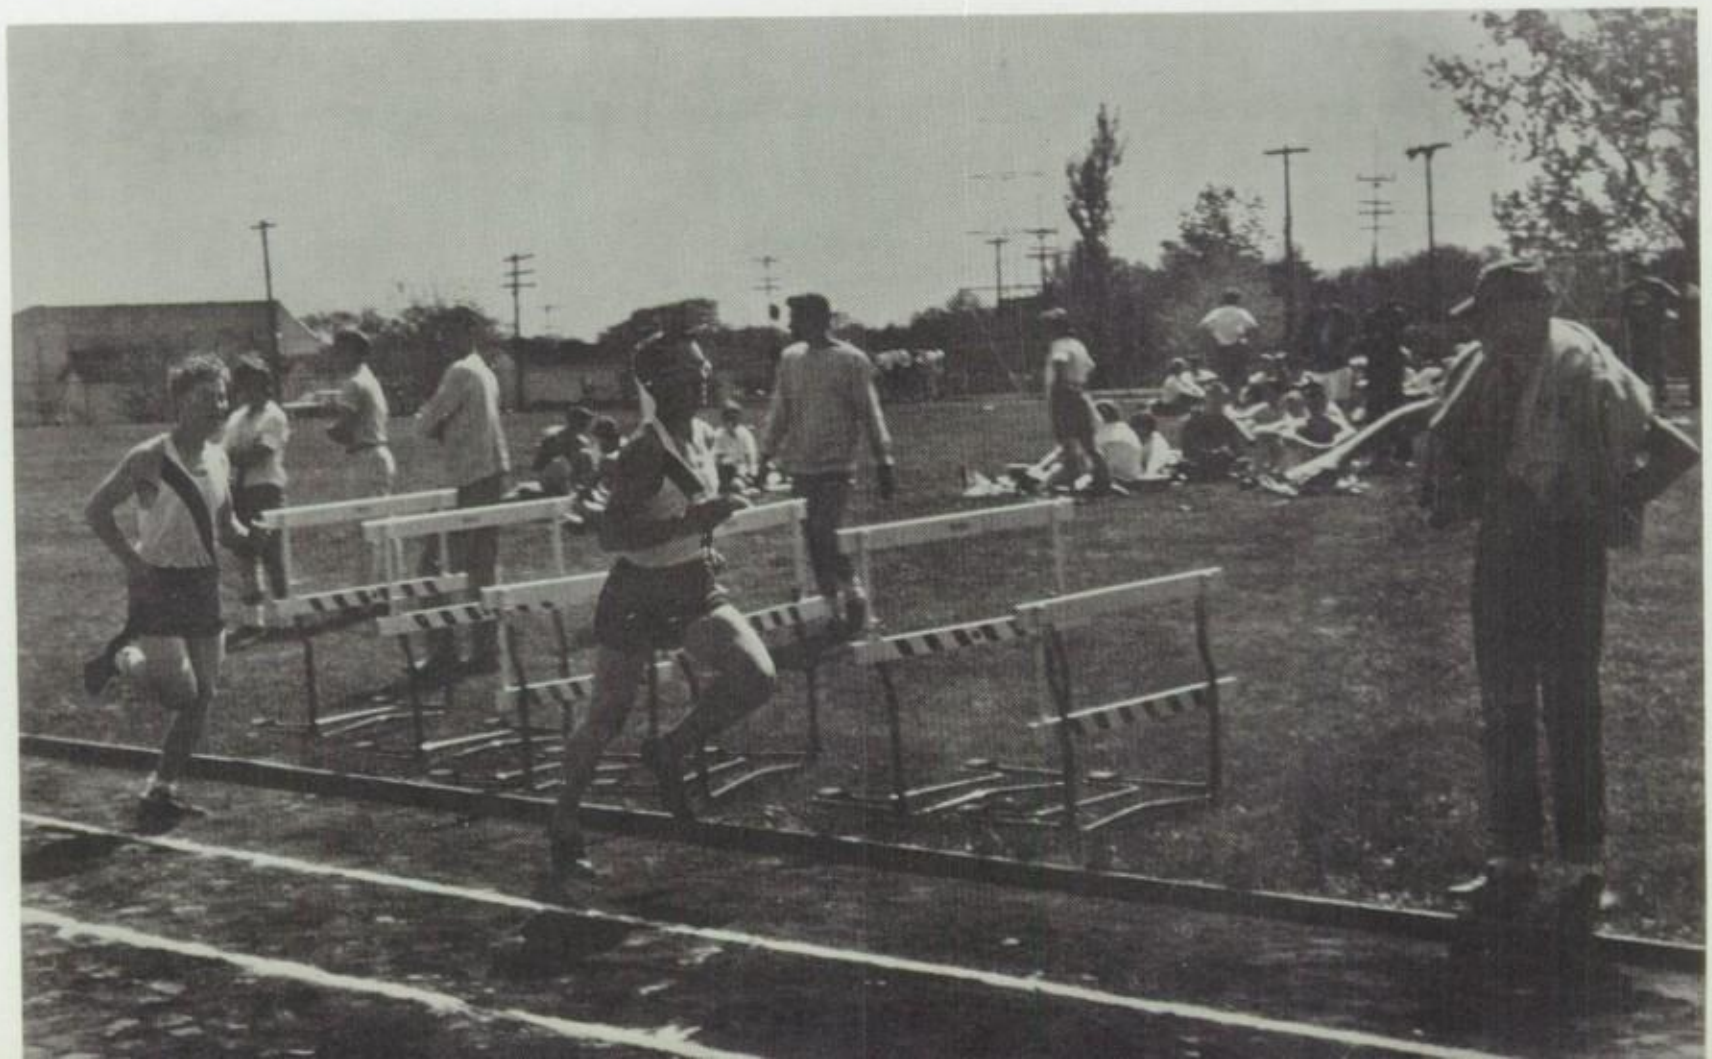
DISTANCE is the OBJECTIVE as Brenda King cuts loose with a long basketball throw at Brookfield. Brenda learned from practice that distance and altitude coincided with throwing the ball.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP requirements are physical stamina and thorough training. Ted Holmlund demonstrates the fact that he possesses these qualifications.

Field Events Emphasize Physical Skills

Boys' Track

UPON COMPLETION of the mile run, Wayne Cunningham and Galen Switzer were always a little tired and exhausted, but eager for the next scheduled track meet.



SHOWING AN EXPRESSION of determination, Robert Jobson takes first place honors for Bucklin in the high jump at the Tri-County Conference Meet held in Brookfield.

3rd	Bucklin	28	7th	Ethel	13
4th	Browning	27	8th	New Cambria	6

Competition is very keen in boys' track. It varies from the slow stride and the mighty effort in the high jump to the blinding speed in the 100-yard dash. Each of these plus all the other track events calls for good training rules, much practice, and a great desire to win.

ENTERING the 220-YARD DASH contest at the Tri-County Conference Track Meet was Roger Burns of Bucklin High School.

KEEPING HER EYES on the ball, Mary Ervie gets ready to swing. Mary's ability to get on base often won her lead-off position.

The Bucklin girls of 1963-64 came out third in the Conference Tournament.

The Bucklin girls downed the Linneus girls for their first game of the tournament by a score of 14 to 8. Then the second game of the tournament, the girls suffered an upset by the Liberty girls. The final score was 12 to 0 in favor of Liberty. For the last game of the tournament the Bucklin girls downed the Ethel girls for third place.

This year the team will lose 3 seniors, which were starters. Karen Hill, whose position was pitcher; Linda Gillespie played third base, and Nancy Heaton first base.

NOT EVEN CLOSE teammates shout to Rama Head as she is about to cross home plate. Rama's booming bat and speed caused much anxiety and uneasiness on the opposing teams when she came to bat.

DETERMINATION and SPEED is shown here as Carl Jackson approaches first base in his bid for a double. Carl's success in hitting the long ball made him a feared hitter among opposing teams.

Sportsmanship - the Goal of This Team

BLOCKING HOME PLATE off and tagging the base runner out shows why Greg Herriman is considered an outstanding baseball player.

"GET OUT OF MY WAY" yells No. 21, Vicki Griffin, as she looks for a path through the Callao defense. Vicki played aggressive basketball for her team.

Basketball is one of the favorite sports for girls in small high schools. The Bucklin girls feel they are fortunate, since many larger high schools place all basketball emphasis on boys and eliminate girls' basketball entirely.

The Bucklin girls showed much promise this year, and Coach Morgan feels he has a fine outlook for future years.

SHOOTING OVER the SCREEN of Vicki Griffin is Leora Davis, No. 14. Leora is trying for another two-point basket, which she has made many times before.

TED HOLMLUND, preparing to sink another "free throw," poses for this picture during an exciting ball game. Ted was high scorer for the Bulldog team.

With much vigor, the varsity basketball team started out the season with a bang. It began with much running and basketball fundamentals. As the sessions mounted so did the pep of the boys. They spent long hours running drills and sharpening up on shooting.

Coach Morgan started the season with a "Tappen" meeting. Tappen is the abbreviation for "Teachers, Administration, Parents, Players, Enthusiasts, News." All people in the community were welcomed. The purpose of the meeting was to encourage public interest in basketball.

This year has been most profitable for the '64 team.

DARRELL MILLIRON, No. 34, wonders what play to use as he faces the opponents. Darrell, being a sophomore, has two more high school years to excel in basketball.

STRUGGLING TO GET FREE, Jerry Payne, No. 25, ends up with a jump after all that work. Jerry made it his aim to always fight for the ball.

The seventh, eighth, and ninth grade boys were ready for the basketball season to start last fall when Coach Morgan announced the first practice. They knew that it would mean much of their energy toward success, time, and effort, but they were willing. The effort put forth by the boys was worthwhile as training for the future. They had many exciting and close games but they were able to win a few.

To end their season, Bucklin High School sponsored a Junior High Tournament which the team had looked forward to all year.

The time comes each year when the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade girls are given the chance to show their skills in basketball. Many girls went out to shoot for a winning year.

The junior high years are set up to learn basketball fundamentals to get ready for places on the high school team. But, the team of '64, met its requirements in skill, and set out to play a good game.

Coach Morgan was pleased with the girls' playing abilities. It looks like they will develop into a good team when they reach high school.

ACTIVITIES

AFTER ATTAINING the HONOR and receiving regal crowns, John Payne and Beverly Baugher look forward to reigning for a year as Bucklin's Homecoming king and queen.

Each year Bucklin holds a Homecoming and 1963 was no exception. The annual occurrence took place the night of November 19, with a large crowd in attendance. Although the ball game was lost to the fighting Eagles of Meadville, spirits were high as the candidates from each high school class came forward. These candidates were selected previously by vote of classmates. Vying for the honor were: Pam Husted and Herman Almond for the freshman class; Marilyn Hayes and Greg Herriman of the sophomore class; Dorothy Switzer and Carter Sappington of the junior class; and Beverly Baugher and John Payne of the senior class.

When everything was quiet, an envelope was handed to Billy Holmes, a Student Council representative, who announced the 1963 Homecoming king and queen as being John Payne and Beverly Baugher.

Providing the background and music for the memorable affair was the Bucklin Marching Band.

Homecoming Royalty

JUNIOR candidates: Carter Sappington and Dorothy Switzer; KING and QUEEN: Johnny Payne and Beverly Baugher. SOPHOMORE: Greg Herriman and Marilyn Hayes; FRESHMEN: Herman Almond and Pamella Husted.

Suspense and excitement lingered in the minds of Bucklin High students and spectators on the night of February 14. The occasion was the Sweetheart game with many exciting moments for players, spectators, and candidates. The junior high game was won by the Bucklin girls, but the high school games were lost to the opposing team, the Ethel Eagles.

The enthusiasm of the crowd reached a high level in anticipation of the unveiling of the Sweetheart, which was to take place at the half-time of the boys' game. Each high school class was represented by one candidate. Finally, the eagerly-awaited moment arrived. The band stood ready to salute the queen with "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Billy Holmes, a Student Council member, announced the queen as Mary Jo Dean, the freshman representative.

EXPRESSIONS of HAPPINESS and delight are apparent on the faces of Mary Jo Dean, as she emerges from the Valentine box, and Ted Holmlund, her escort.

Valentine Sweetheart Festivities

WHEELBARROW RACING was fun for the spectators and Barbara Neff, but a trifle tiring for Cynthia Halley. She thought the gymnasium floor was rather lengthy, and wanted to change places with Barbara.

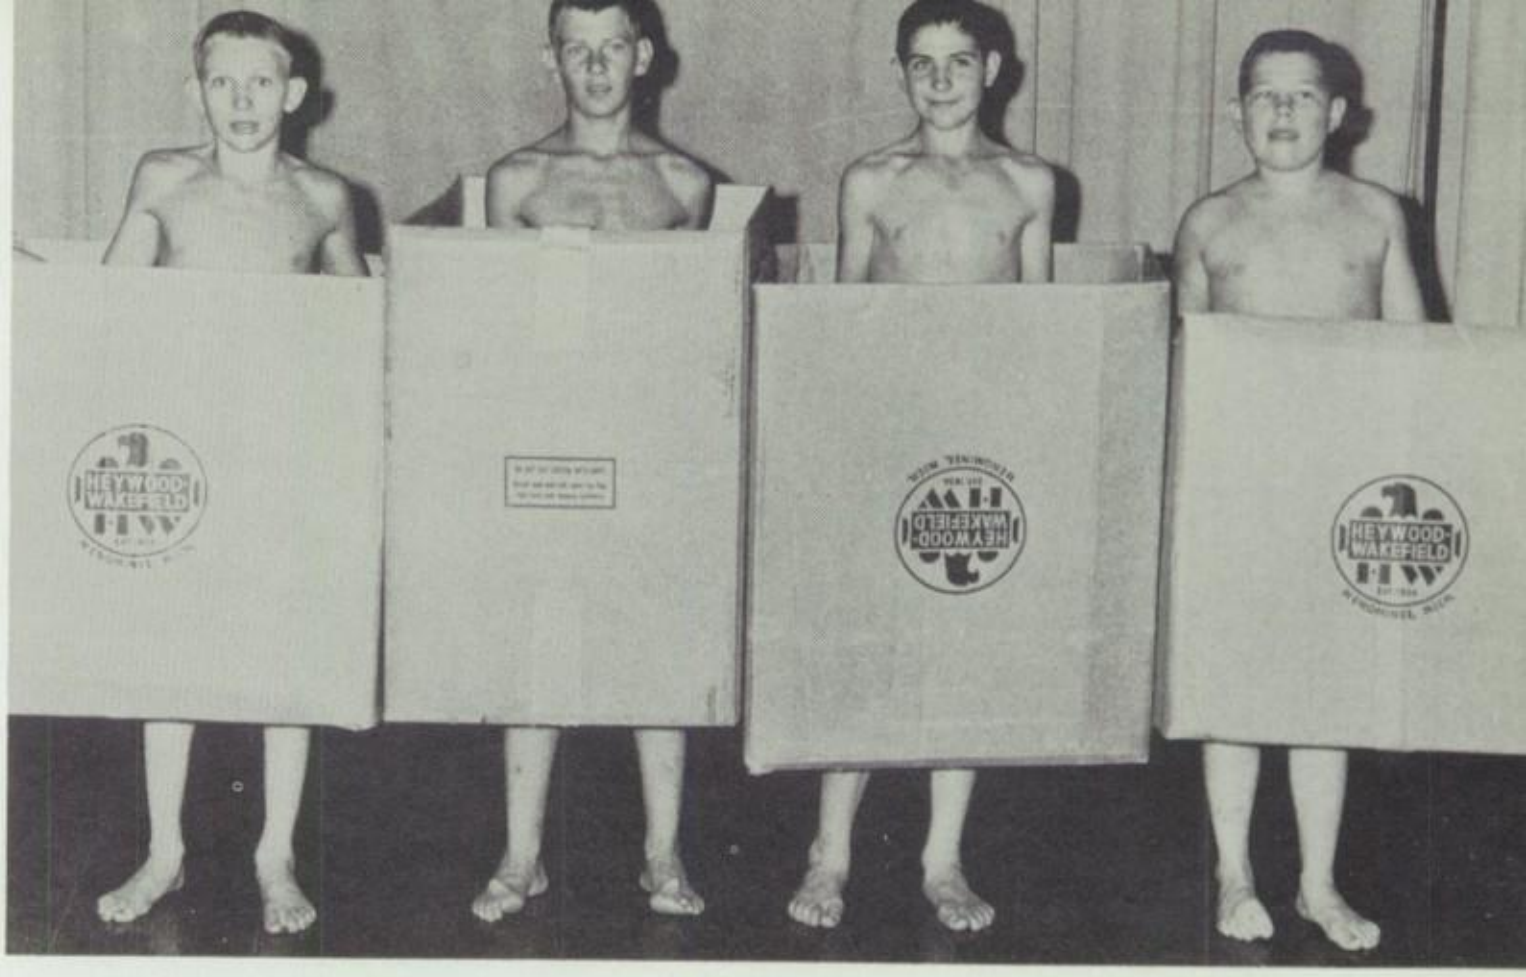
Freshman Initiation

Monday, September 16, 1963, was D-Day for the seniors as they conquered over the green freshmen. Every time a senior called "Air Raid" the freshmen had to do pushups, then kneel down and repeat their saying, which went, "We are the most insignificant, incombustible pieces of inconvenient freshmen that Bucklin ever had." They they treated the seniors to candy and gum.

The glamorous freshman wardrobes were designed by the ingenious seniors. They consisted of everything from an old gunny sack to the finest furs!

PARADING AROUND the school building was an awkward task for many of the freshmen, as their garments-for-the day were not exactly fashioned for marching. They are taking a rest from their marching to pose for their picture.

Freshman Luncheon



"THE BOX PARADE" was a hilariously funny skit as someone stole the clothes from Jimmie Jackson, George Hanson, Wayne Arbuckle, and Terry Finney when they went swimming. Their next best bet was to obtain cardboard boxes for immediate use as they appeared in the program before an audience.

September 19, 1963, was the evening set aside for the annual Freshman Luncheon. This was held in the school cafeteria and then the guests went to the auditorium for a program presented by the freshmen.

Herman Almond, president of the class, gave a welcoming speech. Parents were introduced by the members of the freshman class. Other guests consisted of the faculty and school personnel.

Featured on the program was a group of freshmen who presented two band selections. Three skits--"The House of Horrors," "The Box Parade," and "There's a Hole in the Bucket," and a twirling act completed the program.

ACTING as ROOM MOTHERS, Mrs. Bob Carter and Mrs. Russell Sevier give the tables a final check before the guests arrive at the covered dish luncheon.

GYPSY FORTUNE TELLER Pamela Hughes advises Mary Jo Dean, a spinster, on her romance with Herman Almond in a skit entitled "The House of Horrors."

Senior Play

APRIL 19, 1963

SWING YOUR PARTNERS and around we go! The members of the wedding party enjoy themselves by dancing.

SYNOPSIS

Here's a hillbilly play, rich in the humor of the Ozark Mountains, that is sure to please an audience of any age group. The plot revolves around the Popoff family and the Fry family who have been feuding for years because one of the Popoff boys said he was going out to shoot an old skunk one day and accidentally shot Paw Fry instead. Periodically, Mountain Maggie, a legendary character who travels around the hills nursing the sick, must come to patch up someone hurt in the feud. Rosie Belle Fry, being handy with a gun, takes the only unattached male in the hills from under her sister Emmy's nose. Emmy, who'd like to get "hitched," decides she'll end up as an old maid if she doesn't get one of the Popoff boys. But how can she marry someone with whom her family is having a feud? She enlists the aid of Mountain Maggie, wise in the ways of human nature; convinces Maw Fry and Pappy Popoff that some plain sugar water she gives them is a "love potion" which will make them fall in love. They are tired of being lonely and have just about decided to marry and end the feud, when Rosie Belle arrives with the news that it was all a trick. Once more the feud is going full force. In the end, of course, the feud is ended and everybody is happy, but not before there are quite a few merry mixups and rib-tickling situations.

"WHY ZEKE POPOFF, how come you're a 'hidin' under the table? Air ye scaired?" queries Emmy Fry.

REFRESHING THEMSELVES with punch and cookies is a delight for Jimmie Walker and Richard Stoddard.

MAKING LAST MINUTE PREPARATIONS of pinning on a corsage are Marilyn Bailey and Peggy Aderton.

The Flamingo, a very exclusive night club, was the setting of the Banquet and Prom. Decorations were carried out in keeping with this theme. The principal colors used were dark pink, light pink, black, and white.

One wall of the banquet hall featured a hat, cane, and a pair of white gloves. The opposite wall was decorated with three flamingos. Three flamingos nestled on the tablecloth graced the speakers' table. Black top hats were given as favors.

The stage represented a park with real trees, benches, lanterns, and it was covered with grass. A bird bath was placed in the park with a flamingo beside it. A canopy directed the guests from the park into the main room where the Prom was held. On the north wall of the gym was the lighted skyline of San Francisco Bay. Punch and cookies were served the guests throughout the evening.

Music for dancing was provided by the "Twilighters."

WAITRESSES AND WAITERS are chosen from the sophomore class each year. These students are allowed to remain after the banquet and go to the Prom which proves to be very exciting.

THE "TWILIGHTERS," a rock'n'roll group furnished the music for the dancers.

THE GROUP was finally assembled together long enough to get a picture on the steps of the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, capitol building.

The Grand Finale . . .

THE CHAPERONES, Mr. and Mrs. Oehrke and Mr. and Mrs. Suddarth, pause for a picture during a tour of the Jackson, Mississippi, capitol building.

PERCHED on a CIVIL WAR CANNON at Vicksburg, Mississippi, are John R. Neff and Jerry Lovett, members of the senior class.

To The Bucklin Seniors;

I hope that your trip to the South was a ball
And each different day was enjoyed by you-all,
The places you've been and the things that you've seen
Should stay in each mind very vivid and keen!
And when you return to your school and your home
Should you ever desire to wander or roam
Just think of the South where the sun always shines,
And all of your fun will return to your minds!

A great big thanks should go to the two
Who have been patient and watchful all the way through.
Oehrke and Suddarth they are by name
They've helped this trip to be far from tame.
Of course, Louis Smith deserves a cheer,
His sunny smile helped when the day was drear.
I hope you know you're loved by Smitty
And leaving you-all is a living pity.

I'll remember each day, whether rainy or sunny
You sang and laughed though my jokes weren't funny.
So here's to the Seniors from Bucklin High
May your lives be blessed by that "Man in the Sky."

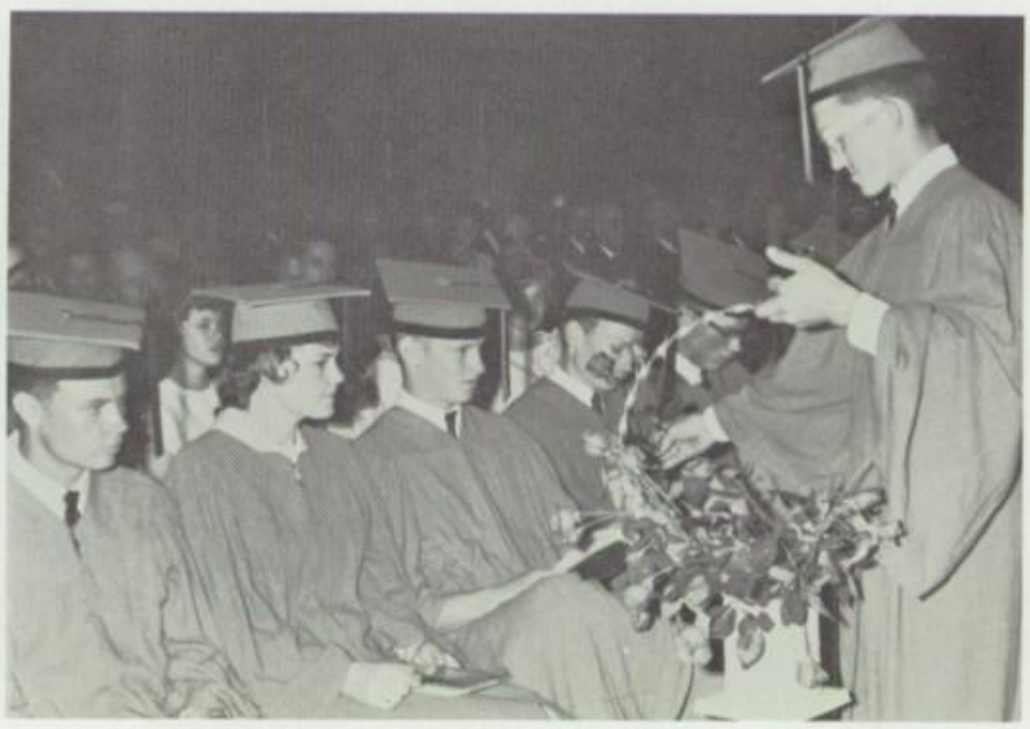
HAPPINESS is APPARENT on the faces of these five honor students as they proudly pose for a final picture.

SOLEMNLY ACCEPTING the rose proferred by Valedictorian Galen Switzer, these classmates seem to be reflecting on past memories.



SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT, Carol Millsap, presents the traditional chain of links to President Linda Gillespie of the junior class at the senior assembly.

Days of Expectation and Remembrance

As the time for Commencement approaches, the graduates seem to effect a newer, closer comradeship with one another. Poignant memories of past years materialize from forgotten depths. Recollections of parties and trips, coupled with happinesses and sadnesses begin, somehow, to creep into the conversation.

Friendships are renewed and differences ironed out as hard feelings are forgotten. The graduates realize that this is the end of the happiest years of their lives, yet they look forward to their future with courage and knowledge.

SECOND to NONE is the day the caps and gowns arrive. Seniors try on their new garments to check for proper fit.

AS THE TIME for receiving diplomas approaches, these graduates work harder to achieve academic recognition.

Eighth Grade Graduates

EXPRESSIONS of HAPPINESS and SOLEMNITY are both in evidence on the faces of Karen Jackson and Mary Lea Whisenand as they walk into the auditorium.

MANY FASCINATING EXPERIENCES and challenges await these boys, Wayne Arbuckle and Herman Almond, in the coming years at Bucklin High School.

"OH, NO YOU DON'T," shouts Judy to Billy who is attempting to escape from asking a girl to a party in the one-act play, "Billy's First Date."

THE "CATILLAC'S" FLAT TIRE poses a problem for Pearl Clark who is attempting to solve the dilemma, while Rama Head and Betty Twitchel watch hopefully.

THE "SOMETHING" THAT "SEEMED" to be wrong with the engine, materialized into a live chicken as Hiram shows the culprit causing the scratching noise.

"I'M GOING to the DANCE with BILLY," declares Barbara (Linda Finney), to Myrna (Brenda King), as Billy (Terry Carter) stares in perplexity at the two girls he is supposed to take to Chuck's party.

THE FASHION SHOW brought forth Barbara Hunt in the "Western Look," Linda Finney in the "Bell-Bottomed Trousers," and Rama Head in the "T-shirt."

A variety of entertaining skits, plays, musical numbers, and a style show highlighted the Seventh Annual Reco Frolics, October 18, 1963.

One new feature in this show was a Reco Band, composed of members of the high school band. Another new attraction was a twirling routine by three members of the twirling squad.

From the opening lines of "Billy's First Date," a one-act play, to the closing moments of "Starting the Trip," a skit, the cast seemed to realize the importance of their weeks of hard work.

HOURS OF WORK made this twirling routine one of perfection. Featured were Nancy Lambert, Linda Gillespie, and Nancy Heaton.

THE SKIT, "DON'T CRY" featured Lattie Clark, Sandra Burris, and Mary Ervie. In this scene Lattie attempts to console Mary who has apparently lost something. . . . a purse with her mother holding it.

"I must be nuts! I am nuts or I wouldn't be doing this!" shouts Buzzy to Phyllis and Leroy after they convince him to pose as an imaginary Mrs. Walters, to go and talk to Mr. McDonald.

SYNOPSIS

Homer Dunhagen, dignified and well-trained principal of Bucklin High School has problems at home--mainly Leroy, Rosemary, and Phyllis--all in their teens. He no sooner gets through the door than Mrs. Dunhagen, all the children and half their friends, neighbors, and parents of students begin descending upon him with problems and objections as to the way he runs the school.

Buzzy and Leroy finally break the camel's back with their opinions and superior airs as to just how the school could be run. So--the right time--the right place--Mr. Dunhagen has had it. Let them run Bucklin High! It will be an experiment in student democracy and what an experiment it turns out to be. Nothing they do comes out right. And, like drowning men they appeal to Mr. Dunhagen for help.

"YES, MRS. ROGERS. . . . But Mrs. Rogers. . I really must go!" shouts Homer (David Anderson) to the mother of Lambert, a mischievous child.

"ARE THEY GONE?" questions Buzzy (Billy Holmes) to Leroy (Terry Carter) after a belligerent crowd storms into the house and Mr. Dunhagen chases them away.

DIANNE AND RASH pause gloomily as Bart Barton explains to Mr. McDonald that his magazine thinks the idea of student principals is great.

ROSEMARY AND PHYLLIS join forces and revolt against Leroy and Buzzy after the boys do not fulfill some of their promises to the girls.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF GIFTS was the task of the Student Council. Pictured are Herman Almond, Vicki Hill, and Beverly Baugher about to begin their task.

CARD GAMES TEND to be an interesting novelty again at the Christmas party. Mr. Rickman, Betty Whisenand, Brenda King, and Barbara Hunt seemed to be deep in thought about their game.

MANY MERRY TOASTS were offered at the Christmas party. Barbara Hunt seemed to be deeply involved in stating her toast to Betty Whisenand and Billy Holmes.

The Christmas Party

DECEMBER 19, 1963

A FASCINATING GAME of "pitch" was enjoyed by these freshman girls. Shirley Payne, Barbara Neff, Pam Hughes, and Mary Whisenand played and Brenda Simmons viewed with interest.

The opening of gifts is an exciting event of the evening. In this photograph Jerry Fitzgerald, Pat Carter, Mary Jo Dean, and Karen Jackson unwrap their mysterious packages.

"WHAT COULD IT BE?" remarked Miss Cannon, as she shakes the package she has just received from Billy Holmes during the bingo game.

WITH A LOOK OF SURPRISE Vicki Hill finds she was the recipient of the door prize, a box of chocolates given by Mrs. Rickman, for the faculty.

The evening of December 19, 1963, held much in store for the high school students, the personnel of the school, and the faculty. This was the evening of the Christmas Party.

This party was filled with dancing, card playing, ping-pong, the opening of presents, and eating delicious foods provided by the faculty. A new feature was a dance contest directed by Mr. Bob Rickman. It consisted of a "slow dance" and a "twist" contest. All enjoyed the dance very much.

A LONG ORDERLY LINE formed in the home economics room to receive the food provided by the faculty after the exchanging of presents.

AN AWARD IS RECEIVED by Linda Gillespie and Terry Carter, partners in a "slow dance contest," for their dancing ability. Mr. Bob Rickman presented the gift in behalf of the faculty.

FREQUENTLY STUDENTS are asked to assist the performers on stage. Two such lucky people were Judy Liebhart and John Casady who are anxiously awaiting their chance to be helpful. They soon found out that it is difficult to keep up with the tricks of a magician.

Variations in Regular Class Routine

Educational Assemblies

THRILLING the ENTIRE AUDIENCE with her fascinating double and triple baton routines, Miss Rice convinced the students that it takes a lot of practice to attain high goals.

A ROSEWOOD BATON exhibited a new type of entertainment. Although the number of different types of twirls are limited, the routine was unusual and interesting to the audience.

Three assemblies were brought to our school during the 1963-64 school year. All were beneficial in that they were planned on a level that students would enjoy, but also be able to gain learning and understanding from each.

Facts about wildlife were brought to us by Mr. William Parsons, who lectured as the slides were being shown. Balancing, juggling, and physical fitness were demonstrated to us by Mr. Buddy Rogers. Joyce Rice, 1959's National Baton Champion, demonstrated many fine technical points of twirling.

Our assembly programs are made possible by the Bureau of Lectures and Concert Artists, a department of the University of Kansas of Lawrence, Kansas.

A DEMONSTRATION of great difficulty, balancing a plate, a ball, and several hoops, is about to be performed by Mr. Buddy Rogers, a magician and juggler who presented an assembly.

MISS JOYCE RICE presented a twirling routine with two flag batons. In this routine she demonstrated the skill which made her the National Baton Twirling Champion.

WILD LIFE FILMS and discussion was the topic for Mr. William Parsons. Many interesting and little-known facts about birds and animals were given in this assembly.

ACQUISITION of NEW BOOKS accelerated the reading program in high school as students were eager to read the new titles.

The job of keeping the library clean and orderly is a big job. It is accomplished by the student librarians under the direction of Miss Cannon. Various jobs include dusting shelves, rearranging books, and seeing that current magazines are kept in the library. Old books are repaired to make them look neat. One big task of the librarians this year was to classify and catalogue the new books that were received for the library.

Office Attendants

Without the able assistance of the student office helpers, the work would not proceed as smoothly as it does. Such jobs as answering the phone, taking lunch money and the lunch count, delivering messages and collecting the absentee slips are done by the students. These jobs are carried out quickly and efficiently.

ANSWERING the TELEPHONE and checking the calendar are duties of Frances Switzer, the first hour office keeper.

High Standards Are Set

Earning a First Class Honor Rating Award in National Scholastic Press Association's All-American Yearbook Critical Service is no small task. Our 1963 yearbook did attain this goal.

The 1964 staff is comprised of students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Pins are given at Awards Assembly at the end of the school year for satisfactory work on individual pages. First year staff members receive a "Cub" pin; second year students are given a "Staff" pin; third year members receive a "Journeyman" pin. Editors and business managers, chosen by other Reco students, receive "Star" pins.

Obtaining funds to finance the yearbook are made by several methods. A Reco Variety Show was held, many advertisements were sold, subscriptions were solicited, and a trash pickup was sponsored.

Keeping the students and parents well-informed about school activities and news is a big problem. This problem is attacked with vigor by all thirteen of Mrs. Wilkins' Tel-it-al staff.

The paper contains sections on: editorials, news, announcements, sports coverage, and all topics of general interest to elementary and high school students. The paper is issued bi-monthly.

Home--Key to the Future

F.H.A. INITIATION DAY brought amusement to non-members when Jannice Cash, Shirley Payne, Phyllis Lovett, Rama Head, Joan Liebhart, and Barbara Neff came to school attired in outlandish costumes.

POINTING out the FEATURES of her garment is Karen Sue Morris.

Accomplishments of the home economics classes were exhibited at the annual fashion show on May 2, 1963, in conjunction with the P.T.A. program. Each girl enrolled in the homemaking classes modeled the garments that she had made.

"Fashionable Criminals," an interesting and unique theme, was carried out by use of line-ups and dragnets as investigations took place. The setting was inside the office of Sgt. Joe Friday. Karen Morris held the position of Sgt. Friday.

CRIMINALS that COMMITTED CRIMES in the Bucklin home economics department under the supervision of their leader, Mrs. Van Dyke: Judy Davolt, Barbara Hunt, Judy Switzer, Susan Lacer, Dorothy Switzer.

OPENING the RURAL AREA DEVELOPMENT suggestion box to make up a list of the leading ten problems of the students of this school are the Student Council members.

Democratically representing the entire secondary student body, a group of eight students meet under the supervision of Mr. Oehrke. Our local council is affiliated with the Missouri Association of Student Councils and we have a plaque in the corridor of the building signifying this.

Representatives of the Student Council are chosen in class meetings. Members of each class choose a girl and a boy to serve in this capacity.

Helping to promote the Rural Area Development Program in Linn County was a new project undertaken by the 1963-64 Student Council. This group also helped with the Homecoming and Valentine Sweetheart basketball games and the Christmas party.

The principal moneymaking project was the sale of sweatshirts. These were black short-sleeved shirts with a Bucklin Bulldog emblem on them. They proved to be real popular, especially with the Pep Club and students attending ball games.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

"Treasures for the Digging" was the main topic for the 1963-64 Parent-Teacher meetings. Some of the treasures we have and must learn to appreciate are: Fellowship, Health, American Education, Christmas Traditions, Natural Resources, Heritage, Character Development, and Education for all. Programs for the meetings consisted of panel discussions, lectures and visual aids.

The P. T. A. sponsored a health and dental clinic for elementary students. The members served lunch at the annual meeting of the Rural Electrification Meeting held in Macon and supervised the lunchroom for the junior high tournament.

Parents of all the students are urged to belong to the P. T. A. This organization is dedicated to serve the best interests of the school system.

Mrs. Maxine Jobson, secretary; Mrs. Lelia Brown, historian; Mr. John Selmon, president; Mrs. Marianne English, vice-president; Mrs. Lessie Lambert, treasurer.

Parents Participate in Organizations

Mrs. Billie Twitchel, president; Mr. Ben Burnett, vice-president: Mrs. Wanda Ervie, secretary; Mrs. Virginia Heaton, treasurer; Mr. Bob Rickman, band director.

BAND BOOSTERS

The Band Boosters organization is composed of a group of parents who are interested in the betterment of the music department of the school. With the Band Boosters help the band is able to purchase the needed instruments and uniforms, and provide for the cleaning and refitting of old uniforms.

This year the Band Boosters purchased ten music stands and they will also purchase senior pins. The Band Boosters put over $300 in the treasury for new uniforms. Some of the ways they made their money this year were to sell birthday calendars and serve the Harvest Day Dinner for the Bucklin Chamber of Commerce. They also served the rural mail carriers.

Seniors-- ---Today We Follow,

Many thoughts enter the minds of the seniors as they realize that 1964 is the year of their graduation. Joy, sorrow, happiness, and sadness await each of them as they go forward on their own into the 1960's, 1970's, and farther! As they think back over the past twelve years, memories come flooding into their minds. Some are sad, but most of them good, and certainly many will always be remembered.

Being a senior is a wonderful experience, but a very busy time. There are many activities, good times and of course, lessons.

As graduation approached, so did the senior trip. Money was obtained by the class participating in magazine sales, ball game concession stands, the senior play, and numerous other activities.

Credit should be given where credit is due, and the sponsors, Miss Iva Cannon and Mrs. Sue Wilkins were exceptional. With the end of their high school years almost upon them, the seniors agree that 1964 was the best year ever.

Working to Make the Better Best

Juniors

Another busy year confronted the juniors as they took their places as upperclassmen. This was certainly a year to remember. There was the anticipation of receiving the class rings, and the annual junior play. This year the class presented the comedy, "The Worm Shall Squirm," on the night of November 21. Lines were memorized and careful preparations were made as many rehearsals were attended by the cast members and their sponsors, Mrs. Van Dyke and Mr. Morgan.

The concession stand at ball games, car washes, and bake sales all contributed to the fund going toward decorations and preparations for the annual Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. Much thought and many ideas went into this memorable occasion.

CHARACTERIZED as an obedient son and a domineering mother are two juniors, Terry Carter and Susan Lacer. They played these parts in the Reco Frolics play, "Billy's First Date."

Forward - Into Success

Sophomores

By the time a student becomes a sophomore, he realizes that high school isn't all fun. It's a combination of hard work, effort, and achievement. But he also realizes that there are times for fun and play. There are ball games to work at, plays to attend, parties, dances, and class tournaments to participate in.

The sophomores added to their treasury by having a work day and food sale. They had the concession stand at ball games two times. They also successfully sold candy as they had done in their first year of high school.

The class enjoyed one skating party. The sponsors, Mr. Kelso and Mr. Rickman, acted as chaperones to this party and helped the class in all of their endeavors.

DANCING before the gaily decorated tree was one of the favorite activities of Mary Ervie and Greg Herriman at the party.

Beginning the Journey to Knowledge

Freshmen

FRESHMAN INITIATION was indeed a day to remember. Here we see John Payne, senior, with his "freshman for a day," Cynthia Halley.

The turning point in school years is met when eighth graders become freshmen. They are confronted now with decisions, like which subject to take and which classmate to choose for a locker mate. Each student finds the answers in about two short weeks and becomes well adjusted to the newness of high school. According to tradition, the freshmen were initiated by the seniors in one day of ridiculous costumes, luscious candy, shoe shines, and good, clean fun.

Finally settled in their new surroundings, the freshmen took up moneymaking projects such as ball game concessions, the sale of school-imprinted note cards, a trash haul, work day, and bake sale.

Each year Bucklin freshmen participate in Planned Progress and this year our team consisting of Troy Cooper, Diana Burnett, Pat Carter, Pamella Husted, and Karen Jackson, won first in the contest with other local schools and were entered in the district contest sponsored by the Missouri Power and Light Company.

Standing by the freshmen in each of their encounters were the class sponsors, Mrs. Kelso and Mr. Meeks.

AS HE CONCENTRATES on the approaching ball, Ted Holmlund starts his rhythmical swing. This pleased Coach Morgan as he watched from the third base coaching box on the New Cambria field.

Our Expression of Thanks

The 1963-64 Reco Staff would like to thank the many fine people who helped in any way to make this yearbook possible. Without the support of a great number of people, it would be impossible to publish our annual.

The staff is indebted to Mrs. Kelso for her supervision and assistance. We also owe a vote of thanks to our parents who made it possible for us to be away from home in order to work on the book.

Thanks and appreciation go to the photographers who rendered their services. These men are: Mr. Jim Harvey, who took the pictures for the album section; Mr. W. H. Ikenberry for the senior pictures and the formal group shots; and Mr. John Kelso for the activity, action, and numerous miscellaneous shots.

Our loyal advertisers deserve special recognition as they really give the staff a big boost on the financial aspect of the book. The subscribers also are a great help in supporting our book.

Mr. Robert Powell and the staff at Pischel's have taken a personal interest in our book, and we do appreciate this specialized attention.

On behalf of Mrs. Kelso and the Reco Staff, we would like to once again thank the many people who helped make this Reco possible.
